Following the increase in the South African dividends tax rate from 15 percent to 20 percent, a revised binding class ruling has been obtained from the South African Revenue Service. In terms of this ruling, those DR holders who are not exempt from the South African dividends tax will be subject to a rate of 5 percent South African tax because of the credit available in respect of the Swiss withholding tax paid. Those depositary receipt holders who qualify for exemption from the South African tax (e.g. South African companies and non-residents of South Africa) must ensure that they have filed the relevant exemption forms with their brokers/banks in order to ensure that no South African tax is withheld.

Please note that Computershare has received refunds from the Swiss Federal Tax Authority for which it has been unable to make payment. If you have previously made a claim and have not received your refund, please contact Computershare (contact details as above), who will be able to advise you if your payment is pending. Please note further that any long outstanding payments older than ten years, which Computershare has been unable to pay, will be forfeited at the end of February 2022.

Richemont Securities SA CFR DRs are issued subject to the terms of the Deposit Agreement entered into on 18 December 1992, most recently amended on 26 March 2014. By holding DR's, investors acknowledge that they are bound by the terms of the Deposit Agreement. Copies of the Deposit Agreement may be obtained by investors from Richemont Securities SA or from Computershare.

Richemont Securities SA may appoint a depositary agent or other parties to assist in the administration of the DR programme and may provide to such agents such information as it deems to be appropriate, including information relating to the identity of holders of DR's.
