Statement regarding the rejection by Anglo American of BHP's latest proposal

Shareholders are referred to the announcements made by the Company on 25 April 2024, 26 April 2024 and 13 May 2024, respectively, regarding BHP's proposed offer to acquire Anglo American plc ("Anglo American").

The Board of Anglo American Platinum notes the announcement made earlier today by Anglo American confirming that it had received a third proposal by BHP on 20 May 2024 to acquire Anglo American. The latest BHP proposal contained different terms, however, it still retained the previous structure which required a demerger of Anglo American's interests in Anglo American Platinum and Kumba Iron Ore. This proposal has been rejected by the Anglo American board.

A copy of the announcement by Anglo American rejecting BHP's latest proposal can be accessed on the Anglo American website at www.angloamerican.com options, provides many of the future-enabling metals and minerals for a cleaner, greener, more sustainable world and that meet the fast growing every day demands of billions of consumers. With our people at the heart of our business, we use innovative practices and the latest technologies to discover new resources and to mine, process, move and market our products to our customers – safely and sustainably.

As a responsible producer of diamonds (through De Beers Group), copper, platinum group metals, premium quality iron ore and steelmaking coal, and nickel – with crop nutrients in development – we are committed to being carbon neutral across our operations by 2040. More broadly, our Sustainable Mining Plan commits us to a series of stretching goals to ensure we work towards a healthy environment, creating thriving communities and building trust as a corporate leader. We work together with our business partners and diverse stakeholders to unlock enduring value from precious natural resources for the benefit of the communities and countries in which we operate, for society, and for our shareholders. Anglo American is re-imagining mining to improve people's lives.
